

LET'S PUT BIG GOVERNMENT WASTE WHERE IT BELONGS.

1987's $640 toilet seat

The $398 million
bridge to nowhere

Washington's $2.9 billion extra engine for the Joint Strike Fighter that the military neither wants or needs

Despite tough economic times, big government waste is off the charts. There are those in Congress who want to waste another $2.9 billion on an extra engine for the Joint Strike Fighter that the military doesn't want or need. It's not too late to stop this $2.9 billion waste of your money. Tell your congressional representative to chart a new course. By putting this pie-in-the-sky waste where it truly belongs: In the dustbin of history. Visit f135engine.com to contact your elected officials.

It's in our power.™

United Technologies

CARRIER | HAMILTON SUNDSTRAND | OTIS | PRATT & WHITNEY | SIKORSKY | UTC FIRE & SECURITY